Originally this pool was a gift from the comedian Lou Costello, who lost his son in a drowning accident, and in his son's memory wished to ensure that neighborhood children could learn to swim. The pool is currently evaluated as failing. The pool is open on a day-to-day basis this summer. Both the pool and the mechanical systems are in need of replacement. The deck has large cracks. The pool tank is leaking through the deep end wall into the filter room. There are no deck drains and both restrooms are in disrepair. The facility is not ADA compliant. The pool's location on a slope compounds the stress on the pool, and a new location should be sought. This location might then be converted to a splash pad.
