

IMPROVEMENT PROJECTS

2024-2025

Before & After

Main Entrance Archway

The Los Angeles Equestrian Center's iconic entry arch has been revitalized with a clean, modern design that reinforces the Center's identity and welcomes guests with clarity and style. The refreshed signage highlights the property's historic character while aligning with updated branding. This improvement enhances visibility and creates a distinguished first impression for all who arrive.

The Welcome Booth

A modernized design with clear, professional directional signage to better serve visitors, boarders, and event guests. The updated design provides a cohesive, welcoming first impression while improving wayfinding throughout the property. This upgrade reflects our ongoing commitment to facility excellence and guest experience.

Little White Barn

The Little White Barn has been refreshed to showcase a clean, cohesive appearance that reflects the Los Angeles Equestrian Center's elevated standards. The addition of sponsor branding integrates seamlessly with the facility's historic architecture, blending tradition and presenting our partnership with John Deere. This update enhances the barn's visibility while preserving its charm and functionality.

Equidome Enhancements

The Equidome arena has been upgraded with new features that highlight both functionality and presentation. Precision laser leveling has improved the arena footing, ensuring safety and performance for horses and riders. In addition, new sponsor signage and fresh paint enhance the arena's professional appearance while supporting vital partnerships.

DEF Barn Renovation

The DEF Barn has been transformed with refreshed exteriors and cohesive landscaping that greatly improve its overall appearance and functionality. New finishes, paint, and planters create a clean, professional look, while structural upgrades provide shade and ventilation to mitigate heat and prioritize animal safety. This renovation underscores LAEC's commitment to providing a safe, attractive, and well-maintained facility for horses and boarders

Cricket House

The Cricket House has been refreshed to highlight its historic charm while creating a polished and welcoming event-ready space. Updated finishes, needed repairs to the roof and kitchen, plus landscaping elevate the building's appearance, blending rustic character with modern elegance. This restoration enhances the versatility of the facility, providing a beautiful setting for gatherings and special events.

C Barn Rebuild

C Barn has been completely rebuilt, transforming the structure into a modern and functional facility that serves both horses and riders. The new design features upgraded electrical systems, improved ventilation, and enhanced safety measures, ensuring the barn meets today's highest standards. This rebuild represents LAEC's commitment to reinvesting in core infrastructure and creating a safe, high-quality environment for the equestrian community.

A Warm Reception

Over the past two years, LAEC has invested deeply in upgraded arenas, stables, lighting, and public-space enhancements—creating a safer, more welcoming environment. As part of the city's park system and local municipality, we've expanded services, opened our gates wider to the community, and hosted vital events. Our role as an official evacuation site during recent fires earned us formal recognition from the City of Los Angeles. We were honored with the "Heart of the City" Award from the Burbank Chamber for our commitment to civic service. Every improvement we make advances our mission: to serve, engage, and elevate our shared community.

Our Commitment to Excellence

At the Los Angeles Equestrian Center, every project reflects our team's dedication to making this site the very best it can be—for our boarders, our guests, and our community. From facility upgrades to safety enhancements and event improvements, the work you've seen here represents only a fraction of the progress taking place across our grounds.

With every improvement, large or small, we move closer to our shared vision: a vibrant, welcoming, and world-class equestrian center that serves as a home for horses, a gathering place for people, and a landmark for Los Angeles.
